Cookie Notice

This Notice describes how we use cookies and similar technologies on our website.

This Cookie Notice last updated on 25th January 2019.

Strathclyde Partnership for Transport ("we", "us", "our") uses cookies and similar technologies as described in this Notice. By consenting to this cookie notice, you agree that we can distinguish you from other users of our website for the purposes set out below. This helps provide you with good user experience, tailored content and interest-based adverts. For example, we can recognise and remember important information that will make it more comfortable for you to browse our website such as preferred settings.

What are Cookies and similar technologies?

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that we store via your browser on the hard drive of your computer or mobile device.

There are three main types of cookies:

- Session cookies: specific to a particular visit and limited to sending session identifiers (random numbers generated by the server) so you don't have to re-enter information when you navigate to a new page or check out. Session cookies are not permanently stored on your device and are deleted when the browser closes;

- Persistent cookies: record information about your preferences and are stored in your browser cache or mobile device; and

- Third party cookies: placed by someone other than us which may gather data across multiple websites or sessions.

We use cookies for the following four purposes:

Type of Cookie	Purpose of Cookie
Strictly necessary	These cookies are essential for you to browse our Website and use its features. The information collected relates to the operation of the Website (e.g. website scripting language and security tokens) and enables us to provide you with the service you have requested.
Functionality	These cookies remember the choices you have made, for example the country you visit our Website from, your language and any changes you have made to text size and other parts of the web pages that you can customise to improve your user experience and to make your visits more tailored and enjoyable. The information these cookies collect may be anonymised and cannot be used to track your browsing activity on other websites.
Performance/analytics	These cookies collect information on how users use our Website, for example which pages you visit most often, whether you receive any error messages and how you arrived at our website. Information collected by these cookies is used only to improve your use of our Website. These cookies are sometimes placed by third party providers of web traffic and analysis services.

Targeting or advertising	These cookies collect information about your browsing habits and inferred interests to make advertising more relevant to you. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an advert as well as to measure the effectiveness of an advertising campaign. These cookies are usually placed by third party advertising networks. They remember the other websites you visit and this information is shared with third party organisations, for example advertisers.

We may also automatically collect and store certain information about your interaction with our Website including IP address, browser type, internet service provider, referring/exit pages, operating system, date/time stamps and related data.
